International Student Engagement Strategy

The FWO and the Department of Home Affairs

We want international students to understand they have workplace rights and we're here to give them free help. Importantly, they can seek our assistance without fear of their visa being cancelled.

Our successes

- Stakeholders carrying our messages
- Ensuring businesses who employ international students are compliant
- Increases in requests for assistance and anonymous reports

How you can help

Key messages for international students:

1. International students are entitled to the same workplace rights as every other worker in Australia.
2. The Fair Work Ombudsman is here to help international students.
3. A student should not get in trouble for asking us for help.
